“When you are playing a good digital game—a computer, video, or mobile game—a lot is going on. You are learning to play by playing—practicing and perfecting skills, acquiring bits of knowledge, setting goals and achieving them. You are deeply engaged, which means your attention is focused on playing at the cognitive, emotional, and perhaps social level. As you achieve your goals, you are highly motivated to keep learning whatever it is you have to—new game rules, stories, language—to keep playing.”

J. Reinhardt (2019) Gameful Second and Foreign Language Teaching and Learning, New Language Learning and Teaching Environments.

Gamification or Pointsification ?

“Game developers and players have critiqued gamification on the grounds that it gets games wrong, mistaking incidental properties like points and levels for primary”

PBL, Points, Badges and Leaderboards

“If you ask any gamer what makes a game fun, they will not tell you that it is because of the PBLs. They play it because there are elements of strategy and great ways to spend time with friends, or they want to challenge themselves to overcome difficult obstacles.”

Yu Kai Chou

Fun and games

We live in a world of systems, and choose whether to make a given system a game.

It can be argued that we now know more about games...and more about play and fun than ever before.

But... What is Fun?

"fun is the emotional response to learning."

Chris Crawford
Austin Game Conference.

Raph Koster

"Fun in games arises out of mastery. It arises out of comprehension. It is the act of solving puzzles that makes games fun. With games, learning is the drug."

games are systems built to help us learn patterns.

And fun is a neurochemical reward to encourage us to keep trying.

— What is Gamification? Why use it in the classroom?

Gamification = the application of typical elements of game playing (e.g., point scoring, competition with others, rules of play) to other areas of activity.

Gamification can encourage good behaviours with instant, positive feedback.

Gamification can make dull or dry activities fun.

Behaviour Management is...

[please complete]

— ...not an issue in some educational contexts... *

* i.e. with motivated (adult) students who want to learn

...but it is vital in others

* i.e. with young learners & teenagers who don't want to be in your classroom

Fundamentals of Behaviour Management

With kids, behaviour management is fundamental to good teaching If you can't control them, you can't teach them and they won't learn.

- You need to be in charge of the room
- Talk like you expect to be heard
- Be prepared to act tough
- Think about how you move
- Keep your cool, don't raise your voice
- Punish behaviour you disapprove
- Reward behaviour you like
- Be consistent, fair and proportional

Gamifying Writing

Once upon a time, in a land full of mountains, next to a river, there lived a group of pirates who wore helmets with horns on them.

One day, the king of the pirates set a quest for the others: to find the mythical gigantic tree octopus.

The prize, he told them, would be a golden cup, and the pirates would also hold a party and cook the tree octopus in the special silver cooking pot...

Irrepatierminc

One island is called Irrepatierminc. It is a wonderful and beautiful place. There are a lot of big trees, a river and very high mountains. In the island there is a village called Patri. It is very nice and incredible because you can do a lot of things. The weather of this village is fantastic because always is sunny and hot. All people in this village is very kind and there are only one school and all people know each other. We celebrate a lot of parties to meet | people and we have four months of holidays every year.

Personally, I would like to live always here because of the holidays, it is an amazing place and I have a lot of friends. I would like to go to the island on holiday and visit Patri.
