Task 4 – Reading task: Diverse society, football and food.

This is a text from the British Council's UK In Focus website.

Read the text and then discuss the questions in groups:

• What's the first country you think of when you think of the United Kingdom?

www.teachingenglish.org.uk

- What's the difference between England, the United Kingdom and Great Britain?
- · Have you, or any of your classmates, ever visited any of the cities mentioned in the text?
- Which other famous people do you consider to be English icons?

Diverse Society, Football and Food – Living in England.

Where it is

England is perhaps the country most people first think of when they think of the United Kingdom. It borders both Scotland and Wales and almost 50 million people live there, which is over 80% of the UK's total population. Major cities include London (the capital), Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Newcastle, and Manchester. London is one of the most well-known cities in the world and for many is representative of the whole of England, if not, the whole of the UK. Other icons include football, actors Jude Law and Kate Winslet, Bridget Jones, pubs and beer. But for most these represent the whole of the UK, not just England.

Indistinct identity?

Many of the people in our survey, either English by birth or now living here, commented that it was very difficult to distinguish between English and British culture and identity. People found that they often identify more with other things than with England as a country. These other things include: the place or region in which they live, whether it be a major city or one of the English counties such as Yorkshire, Devon or Northumberland; the UK as a whole; or the religious or ethnic community they are from.

Task 5 – Cockney rhyming slang

Did you know that in the East end of London some people use a special sort of slang language to speak to each other?

Cockney Rhyming Slang	Standard English
Apples and pears	Stairs
Dog and bone	Phone
Adam and Eve	believe
